Office hours: Weds 2-4 pm

COURSE DESCRIPTION

For many children, there is an undeniable attraction to the strange, dark, and terrifying. The question is why? Is it simply the taboo of it? Wanting to experience something that their parents have denied them? Or is this issue, if we can even call it that, more complex? One explanation often put forward is that scary media provides children with an outlet for safely confronting their anxieties - anxieties that are generally ignored by adults under the assumption that children are too innocent to understand the darker realities of life. And yet popular children's literature grapples with dark themes and topics just as often as works for adults do.

In this course, we will be surveying a number of "scary" texts (books, films, fairy tales, etc.) for children and young adults, both texts that deal with dark subject matter and actual horror media that was produced for young readers/viewers. Themes examined in this course may include trauma, abuse, death, abandonment, sexual endangerment, monstrosity, loss of identity, and more. By engaging with these texts and themes through a number of different critical lenses, students will arrive at a better understanding of the social functions that children's literature and horror serve as genres, as well as grapple with important literary issues such as audience, censorship, and the flexibility of genre.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

By the end of this course, students will:

- Develop a knowledge of key themes and concepts prevalent in children's literature and horror media, especially darker undercurrents in children's media, and put these themes to use in the production of new works
- Develop a solid foundational knowledge of key literary/theoretical concepts, including genre studies, Jungian archetypes, feminist criticism, and catharsis
- Understand and explore the ways in which literary genres can be flexible
- Think critically about the production of meaning when writing, and recognize the ways in which narrative is sustained across different genres
- Express critical viewpoints through a number of different academic and creative genres
- Work collaboratively in an academic writing community
- Produce writing that is coherent, focused, and well-organized
- Display a command of grammar, punctuation, spelling, MLA citation, and research skills

ASSIGNMENTS

Participation (100 points; 10% of grade): Students are expected to come to class prepared and willing to participate in in-class activities, including writing exercises, quizzes, discussions, group work, peer reviews, workshops, and more. Students are expected to contribute constructively to each class session.

Peer Reviews/Workshops (50 points; 5% of grade): Students are expected to peer-review each other's work in class on designated days, providing constructive criticism and feedback. There will be at least two peer-reviews during the semester on days indicated by the course schedule, plus a mandatory research paper conference with the instructor at the end of term.

Blog Posts (200 points; 20% of grade): Each week, you will be given a blog post prompt and are expected to complete the prompt and post it to a personal blog created specifically for this assignment, due before class on the day specified in the course calendar. Each post will be between 200 – 250 words and highly self-reflective (think of this assignment as a kind of themed journal). You will be given 12 blog prompts over the course of the semester and must complete at least 10.

Deliverable: 10 blog posts (200 - 250 words each; 20 points each).

Film Review (100 points; 10% of grade): Tropes and motifs from fairy tales have frequently snaked their way into horror films. For this assignment, you will write a film review for a horror/dark fantasy film that you feel draws on fairy tale tropes/themes. Many of these films are available through our library system and via Netflix [see the chart on the next page to help you get started]. This review is to not only evaluate the film, but analyze the ways in which said film makes use of fairy tale imagery/tropes/motifs.

Deliverable: 600-900 word Microsoft Word Document uploaded to Canvas.

Red Riding Hood:	Bluebeard:	Hansel & Gretel:
-------------------------	-------------------	-----------------------------

Hard Candy Freeway Silence of the Lambs	Monsieur Verdoux The Secret Behind the Door Rebecca The Corpse Vanishes Shadow of a Doubt The Stepfather	The Texas Chainsaw Massacre The Blair Witch Project Suspiria Mama
Beauty & The Beast: Edward Scissorhands Candyman The Wolfman King Kong	Snow White: Snow White: A Tale of Terror Snow White and the Huntsman Rumpelstiltskin: Rosemary's Baby	Other: Black Swan A Nightmare on Elm Street The Red Shoes Hanna New Nightmare Last House on the Left

Monster Wiki (100 points; 10% of grade): For this research project, you will be choosing a monster/legendary creature and creating a well-sourced, original Wiki page, which will be uploaded to our class Monster Wiki. Think of this assignment as though you were writing an encyclopedia entry. Information sections on the page should include: Introduction, Etymology, Folk History, List of children's texts/media that this monster appears in, and a References section with 7-10 secondary sources (required).

Students will also be required to go into another student's page and add some information that you find important to the entry (NOTE: Please do NOT delete other students' work; add something of note, don't subtract.)

Deliverable: 600-900 word wiki entry uploaded to the class wiki AND submitted as a Word document to Canvas; brief informational addition added to another student's page (100-200 words)

Synthesis Essay (150 points; 15% of grade): To demonstrate the skill of synthesizing sources, students will analyze two or more of the texts we have examined in class, bringing them into conversation with each other to demonstrate how they have reached an enlarged perspective on their chosen synthesis question (possible topics will be provided by the instructor). Essays will require both a strong thesis and textual evidence to support the student's argument.

Deliverable: 900 – 1200 word Microsoft Word Document uploaded to Canvas.

Research Paper (300 points; 30% of grade): The final paper for this course will be a research paper related to one or more of the themes and texts that have been discussed throughout the semester. In this paper, students will make a clear, specific argument about a topic of their choosing that relates to the theme of the course. The argument must be supported with evidence from both the texts we shall read together in class and from outside academic/critical sources (facts, statistics, and quotations from experts in the field relevant to the student's chosen topic).

Deliverable: 1800 – 2100 word Microsoft Word Document uploaded to Canvas.

Grading Rubric

Grade
A work	You have completed the assignment at a very high quality level. Content is complete, well-organized, pays special attention to genre and style, and is free of typos and grammatical errors. Work in this range demonstrates a high level of critical engagement. You have gone above and beyond what was expected of you.
B work	The assignment has been completed at a satisfactory level, but may still be in need of some revisions. Content is complete and well-organized with special attention paid to style, genre, audience, grammar, and mechanics.
C work	The assignment is complete and logically organized, but is notably in need of revision. It may include multiple typos or grammatical errors that suggest a lack of proofreading. Additionally, style and level of critical engagement may be lacking. The bare minimum of what was required of you.
D work	You have mostly done what was asked of you, but at a very poor quality level. Little to no attention has been paid to style, grammar, and mechanics; the work is in need of significant revision. The work may also be missing some of the requirements of the assignment, incomplete, or poorly organized.
E work	An “E” is usually reserved for students who have failed to complete the assignment or have failed to meet the minimum word requirement for the assignment. However, an “E” may be given if the work in question blatantly fails to meet the aforementioned criteria for evaluation.

Statement of Composition (C) and Humanities (H) credit:

This course can satisfy the UF General Education requirement for Composition or Humanities. For more information see:

<https://catalog.ufl.edu/ugrad/current/advising/info/general-education-requirement.aspx>

Statement of Writing Requirement:

This course can provide 6000 words toward fulfillment of the UF requirement for writing. For more information, see:

<https://catalog.ufl.edu/ugrad/current/advising/info/gordon.aspx>

Note: To receive writing credit, you must receive a grade of C (2.0) or higher AND satisfactory completion of the writing component of 6000 words. This means that you must complete EVERY assignment.

Final Grade Appeals

In 1000- and 2000- level courses, students may appeal a final grade by filling out a form available from Carla Blount, Program Assistant in the English Department. Grade appeals may result in a higher, unchanged, or lower final grade.

CLASSROOM POLICIES

Attendance

Attendance and participation in this class is required. You are permitted up to 6 absences in this class throughout the semester. Bear in mind that in-class work may be excused/made up only under the following circumstances:

- Student is absent for a religious holiday
- Student is absent for an athletic or other university-sponsored event (student athletes/students in band, theater, etc.) – documentation required
- Medical reasons - documentation required

For any of these instances, you are required to contact me and provide documentation as noted. In-class work missed for any other reason cannot be made up. Any assignment due on a day you are absent is still due.

After your 6th absence, each additional absence will result in a deduction from your grade:

7 absences	- 10% of possible grade
8 absences	- 20% of possible grade
9 absences	AUTOMATIC FAILURE OF COURSE

Tardiness: If a student enters after roll has been called, they are late, which disrupts class. Two instances of tardiness count as one absence. Leaving class before dismissal will also count as tardiness.

Plagiarism and Academic Honesty

Plagiarism is a serious violation of the Student Honor Code and carries suitably serious consequences. The Honor Code prohibits and defines plagiarism as follows:

Plagiarism: A student shall not represent as the student's own work all or any portion of the work of another. Plagiarism includes (but is not limited to):

- a. Quoting oral or written materials, whether published or unpublished, without proper attribution.
 - b. Submitting a document or assignment, which in whole or in part is identical or substantially identical to a document or assignment not authored by the student.
- (University of Florida, Student Honor Code, 15 Aug. 2007)

All students must abide by the Student Honor Code. For more information about academic honesty, including definitions of plagiarism and unauthorized collaboration, see:

<http://www.dso.ufl.edu/sccr/honorcodes/honorcode.php>

University of Florida students are responsible for reading, understanding, and abiding by the entire Student Honor Code.

PLEASE NOTE: There is zero tolerance for plagiarism in this class. Plagiarized assignments will receive zero credit and will not count toward the 6,000-word requirement for the course. The Dean of Students Office will also be notified and further disciplinary actions may occur.

If you have questions about whether or not you are citing a source correctly, ask me.

Classroom Behavior

Some of the texts we will discuss and write may engage controversial topics and opinions, so please keep in mind that a) students come from diverse cultural, economic, and ethnic backgrounds and b) it is vital that you demonstrate respect for ideas that differ from your own.

In addition, students will refrain from texting and other behaviors that distract classmates. Disrespectful behavior will result in dismissal from the class and will count as an absence from class. Disrespectful behaviors include: Phone calls, texting, checking Facebook, leaving class repeatedly, sleeping, failure to bring texts, disrespectful language, etc.

Sexual Harassment

UF provides an educational and working environment that is free from sex discrimination and sexual harassment for its students, staff, and faculty. For more about UF policies regarding harassment, see: <http://www.dso.ufl.edu/sccr/sexual/>

Participation

Participation is a vital component to any classroom. Students will be expected to constructively contribute to each class session by participating in group discussions, writing workshops, peer reviews, and other in-class activities. Students must be present for all in-class activities to receive credit for them. In-class work cannot be made up.

Mode of Submission

All papers will be submitted as MS Word (.doc) documents to Canvas, unless otherwise noted (blog posts, etc.). Final drafts should be polished and presented in a professional manner. All papers must be in 12-point Times New Roman font, double-spaced with 1-inch margins and pages numbered. Please do not email your paper to your instructor.

When submitting digital papers, please also include your last name in the file name. (Example: ElliottFilmReview.doc).

It is the student's responsibility to maintain copies of all work submitted in this course should the need arise for resubmission or review of submitted work.

Emails

You can always reach me via email. I expect your emails to me to be professional and to follow the rules of grammar and etiquette, including proper salutations, a subject line, and a signature that includes your name (I can't help unless I know who I'm talking to).

Late Papers

All assignments are due at the beginning of class on the day indicated, unless otherwise noted on the syllabus. Late assignments will not be accepted. If you find yourself in a situation that requires an extension, you must contact me before the due date to discuss it.

University Writing Center

If you ever need help with any of your written assignments, tutors are available at the University Writing Center in 302 Tigert Hall. You can schedule an appointment ahead by calling (352) 846-1138 or by visiting <http://writing.ufl.edu/writing-center/>

Students with Disabilities

The Disability Resource Center in the Dean of Students Office provides information and support regarding accommodations for students with disabilities. For more information, see: <http://www.dso.ufl.edu/drc/>

Please schedule a meeting with me to discuss accommodations within the first week of class.
