

ENG 2300: Film Analysis; Spring 2015 (section 7308)

Class: MWF 6 (12:50-1:40)

Screening: W E1-E3 (7:30-10:10)

Classroom: Turlington 2322

Instructor: Peter Gitto

Email: peter.gitto@ufl.edu

Office: Turlington 4307

Office Hours: F 7 and by appointment

COURSE DESCRIPTION

The goal of ENG 2300 is to provide students with a working knowledge of film vocabulary within the context of film history and film theory. This course will allow you to begin your exploration of the field by watching, discussing, and writing about films, and by engaging in critical reading of texts in film theory and criticism. By the end of this course, students will not only have a greater knowledge of how to talk about films, but also how to read, analyze, and think about films.

The course will emphasize narrative film. The course has a strong writing component and we will devote time to research and writing strategies; we will use a short guide “Writing about Movies” to address these issues.

This is a General Education course providing student learning outcomes listed in the Undergraduate Catalog. For more information, see:
<http://catalog.ufl.edu/ugrad/current/advising/info/general-educationrequirement.aspx#learning>.

TEXTSRequired:

Barsam, Richard and Dave Monahan. Looking at Movies: An Introduction to Film. 4th Ed. New York: Norton, 2012.

(Pack will include DVD tutorials (2 DVDs) and “Writing about Movies” guide)

Additional readings will be provided as PDF files, via Sakai

A Netflix DVD account is recommended for the course (one DVD out at a time, circulating); this makes writing about films a lot easier—you can schedule when you want to work on your papers and know you will have the DVD available. But most films will also be available at Library West.

UNIVERSITY REQUIREMENTS

Statement of Composition (C) and Humanities (H) credit:

This course can satisfy the UF General Education requirement for Composition or Humanities. For more information, see:

<https://catalog.ufl.edu/ugrad/current/advising/info/general-educationrequirement.aspx>

Statement of Writing requirement (WR):

This course can provide 6000 words toward fulfillment of the UF requirement for writing. For more: <https://catalog.ufl.edu/ugrad/current/advising/info/gordon.aspx>

Statement of student disability services:

The Disability Resource Center in the Dean of Students Office provides information and support regarding accommodations for students with disabilities. For more information, see:

<http://www.dso.ufl.edu/drc/>

Final Grade Appeals:

Students may appeal a final grade by filling out a form available from Carla Blount, Program Assistant in the Department of English. Grade appeals may result in a higher, unchanged, or lower final grade.

Statement on harassment:

UF provides an educational and working environment that is free from sex discrimination and sexual harassment for its students, staff, and faculty. For more about UF policies regarding harassment, see: <http://www.dso.ufl.edu/sccr/sexual/>

Statement on academic honesty:

All students must abide by the Student Honor Code. For more information about academic honesty, including definitions of plagiarism and unauthorized collaboration, see:

<http://www.dso.ufl.edu/sccr/honorcodes/honorcode.php>

Classroom Behavior:

Please keep in mind that students come from diverse cultural, economic, and ethnic backgrounds. Some of the texts we will discuss and write about engage controversial topics and opinions. Diverse student backgrounds combined with provocative texts require that you demonstrate respect for ideas that may differ from your own.

Students who text during class will face attendance-related penalties.

Graded Materials:

Students are responsible for maintaining duplicate copies of all work submitted in this course and retaining all returned, graded work until the semester is over. Should the need arise for a re-submission of papers or a review of graded papers, it is the student's responsibility to have and to make available this material.

Phone/ technology policy: Phones should remain in your bag or pocket during class. It's ok to use your phone during breaks, but they should be promptly stowed away when class resumes. If I see you using your phone during class I will mark you absent and I will not notify you of this. Laptops and Tablets should be used for classroom related purposes only (note-taking, viewing class readings). If you distract the instructor or a fellow student due to inappropriate use of laptop or tablet, you will be marked absent.

*During film screenings, all devices should be stowed away. A lit monitor is highly distracting in a theater environment.

Attendance: Attendance is mandatory. Missing class will not only put you behind in terms of course material, but will also deprive the class of your contributions to discussion. You may miss up to three class meetings and one film screening (all together, a week of class) before your grade is affected. Illnesses and emergencies count as part of the excused 4 meetings. If you miss more classes, your final grade will be lowered one-third of a letter grade (from A- to B+, for example) for each additional absence. If you miss more than six class sessions regardless of circumstances, you fail the course automatically. Two tardies (arriving after class has started)=one absence. If you are more than 10 mins late to class, that is an absence. During a double or single period, if you leave early you will be marked absent. Attendance sign in sheet will circulate the first minute of class. If you miss this circulation, it is your responsibility to sign in as tardy after class has finished. Scheduled exams during a screening period count towards your 4 excused absences.

If you are absent, please ask a fellow student, rather than the instructor, for info on what was missed. Make arrangements with two fellow students and get their contact info.

Use these absences wisely in case of extenuating circumstances. Illness or family difficulties do not excuse you from this policy. The only exemptions are for university-sponsored activities such as musical performances and athletic competition, court-imposed obligations such as jury duty of subpoena, and religious holidays. Absences of students who participate in athletic or extracurricular activities fall under the University's "Twelve-Day Rule," and may be permitted in those conditions to make up missed work without penalty. Please note, however, that you must, whenever this is reasonably possible, discuss these absences with me in advance in order to avoid being marked absent.

Online Evaluations: Students are expected to provide feedback of the quality of instruction in this course based on 10 criteria. These evaluations are conducted online at <https://evaluations.ufl.edu>. Evaluations are typically open during the last two or three weeks of the semester, but students will be given specific times when they are open. Summary results of these assessments are available to students at <https://evaluations.ufl.edu>.

WRITING REQUIREMENTS and OTHER ASSIGNMENTS

For this course, the University requires 6,000 words written formally (ie, in-class writing does not count). (300 words double spaced = about 1 page)

A hard copy of the paper is due at the beginning of class. You need to also upload your paper to Sakai BEFORE the beginning of class the day it is due.

Papers are to be typed; 12 pt. font; 1 inch margins; double spaced, pages numbered in upper right hand corner. STAPLED. Papers should have a title that indicates the film(s) to be discussed with an indication of your thesis. Papers should not be generically titled such as, "Formal Analysis Paper." Works Cited lists should be in MLA form, properly cited on a separate page. You should not take up excessive space on the first page; your name and the date in the heading is sufficient.

Intro letter and photo (1 page)

Paper focusing on Mise-en-Scène and Cinematography (3 pages): Working with a film, you will analyze the mise-en-scène and cinematography within a scene or a selection of moments throughout the film.

Paper focusing on Editing (3 pages): In a film you will analyze editing in the film as a whole (for example, stylistic editing patterns) or in a particular scene.

Paper to accompany presentation (3 pages): You will write a paper on one of the week's films that will prepare you to present your ideas on a key issue in a 10 min. oral presentation to the class.

A final paper will be completed in stages.

1. Prospectus (1 page): You will write 1 page telling me the films (1-3) you will be working on for the final paper. They may be ones viewed or discussed in class or may be of your own choosing, or a combination of the two, ie, perhaps investigating more works of a certain director of who's films we have viewed. They should be available on DVD, not currently in the theaters. You will write about possible arguments you could make about the film(s) you have chosen, or the particular argument that you foresee you will make in your final paper.
2. Annotated Bibliography (3 pages): You will write an annotated bibliography consisting of 5 well-chosen scholarly sources that you can include as reference in your final paper. These should be about, or compliment, the films you have chosen (in some instances, you will not find anything written on your selected films, and you must refer to criticism about the genre or film theory). I encourage you to use film theory! (see the book available at Lib West reserve, Film theory and criticism : introductory readings, edited by Leo Braudy, and Marshall Cohen, 7th ed.) Each annotation should be ½ page, and should include a summary of the work, which would be an outline of the argument and main points. You should also indicate how it could fit into your argument.
3. Final Paper (6 pages): The final paper will be a well written, organized, and edited 5 pages. I will be looking for a clear, interesting, specific, and well-thought-out argument which incorporates the film(s) you have selected. You should incorporate the 4 sources you researched in the annotated bibliography within your writing. Also think about formal analysis and cultural criticism in planning and writing the final paper. Will be due the last day of class. You may illustrate your paper with specific film stills, but these will not count within the 6 pages of text. The final paper should include a works cited (page 6).

Quizzes

There may be reading pop-quizzes. You must do the required reading thoroughly by the date it is due. The quizzes are to encourage regular, attentive reading. Quizzes may also cover something that was discussed previously in class. This is to encourage daily attentiveness and investment in the course.

Graded Materials: Please keep all graded materials if you would like to estimate your grade during the semester.

GRADING

Grade Meanings for Papers and shorter essays (such as on exams):

Your grade will depend on the quality of your analysis and the clarity and organization of your argumentation. Your grade will take into consideration the quality of the content of your paper, its organization and coherence, its argument and support, and its style and proper use of writing grammar and mechanics. Here is the meaning behind the grades I assign to your papers; you can use these statements to determine how you might work toward a higher grade:

A--You did what the assignment asked for at a high quality level, and your work shows originality and creativity. Please note that "originality and creativity" do not mean the bizarre, or the use of shortcuts or gimmicks that might suggest, but do not replace, hard work. Originality and creativity come through hard work, close analysis of films, rigor of thought, and augmentation and refinement of ideas. Since careful editing and proofreading are essential in writing, papers in the A range must be free of typos and grammatical or mechanical errors. An A paper will have a clear, concise, and original thesis supported by clearly articulated evidence from the film(s) and/or secondary sources.

B--You did what the assignment asked of you at a high quality level. Work in this range needs revision; however, it is complete in content, is organized well, and shows special attention to style.

C--You did what the assignment asked of you. Work in this range needs significant revision, but it is complete in content and the organization is logical. The style is straightforward but unremarkable.

D--You did what the assignment asked of you at a poor quality level. Work in this range needs significant revision. The content is often incomplete and/or the organization is hard to discern. Attention to style is often nonexistent or uneven.

E--An E is usually reserved for people who don't do the work or don't come to class. However, if your work shows little understanding of the needs of the assignment or demonstrates that you put little effort in completing it, you will receive a failing grade.

Grade breakdown (total 100%)

Verbal Participation, attentiveness, and attendance and quizzes: 30%

Presentation: 10%

Writing total: 60%

Writing breakdown:

Presentation paper: 10%

Mise-en-scène paper: 10%

Editing paper: 10%

Prospectus and annotated bib.: 10%

Final paper: 20%

*Participation includes attendance, doing the assigned readings thoroughly and on time, watching the films attentively and critically, and contributing participation that enhances the quality of the class in discussions or otherwise. Verbal participation is graded on quality as well as quantity. Students should come to class prepared with valuable comments about the films, readings, and concepts.

Checklist for Papers

Quality of Content (What you're writing and why you're writing it)

Unique and Interesting Ideas (but not bizarre or gimmicky)

Strength of Overall Argument

Ideas show the product of your effort and rigor of your thinking

Organization of Argument (How you're writing it at the meta-level)

Elements of selected formal qualities in film(s) support argument

Selected formal qualities in films are linked to a larger meaning or reasoning

Good selection of and use of supporting evidence from film(s) and/or secondary sources

Clarity of thesis (or main argument)

Writing (How you're writing it at the micro-level)

Fluidity of Style (Is it relatively easy to read and understand your ideas?)

Grammar (Is it correct? Is writing free of typos/ spelling errors?)

Clarity of thought (at sentence level and at paragraph level)

SCHEDULE

Week of Jan 5: (dates are due dates)

W: Introduction

Screening (7:30): The Rules of the Game, dir. Jean Renoir 1939

F: Discuss film

Week of Jan 12:

M: Read Chapter 1 and 2 (form and content)

W: in class: From silent to sound films, the screwball comedy/ intro letter & photo due (1 pg)

Screening: Bringing Up Baby, dir. Howard Hawks 1938

F: Read Stanley Cavell, "Chapter 3: Leopards in Connecticut: Bringing Up Baby" from Pursuits of Happiness: The Hollywood Comedy of Remarriage

Week of Jan 19:

M: Holiday

W: Read Laura Mulvey, "Visual Pleasure and Narrative Cinema"; sign up for short presentations

S: Vertigo dir. Alfred Hitchcock 1958

F: Discuss film. Optional reading: "Feminist Film Theory" pp. 134-148 in Cinema Studies: The Key Concepts, 3rd Ed. by Susan Hayward

Jan 26:

M: Chapter 5: Mise-en-scène

W: Michel Foucault: "Panopticism"

S: Caché dir. Michael Haneke 2005

F: discuss film

Feb 2:

M: Chapter 6: Cinematography

W: Finish cinematography, introduce film

S: The Great Beauty dir. Paolo Sorrentino 2013

F: discuss film

Feb. 9:

M: Chapter 8: Editing

W: finish editing

S: Goodfellas dir. Martin Scorsese 1990

F: discuss film; paper due on Mise-en-scène(3 pgs)

Feb 16:

M: Chapter 10: Film History

W: suture, distanciation, hermeneutic code.

S: Germany, Pale Mother dir. Helma Sanders-Brahms 1980

F: discuss film

Feb. 23:

M: excerpt: Cahiers du Cinéma and Young Mr. Lincoln

W: rhetoric in Young Mr. Lincoln

S: Young Mr. Lincoln dir. John Ford 1939

F: discuss film

Mar 2: Spring Break

Mar. 9:

M: still lives in art history/ introduce Jia Zhangke

W: Xudong Zhang, "Market Socialism and Its Discontent: Jia Zhangke's Cinematic Narrative of China's Transition in the Age of Global Capital"

S: Still Life dir. Jia Zhangke 2006

F: discuss film/ still images

Mar. 16:

M: Read: Comolli and Narboni, "Cinema, Ideology, Criticism" paper due: editing (3 pgs)

W: Ideology and Marxist critique/ excerpts from Zizek, The Pervert's Guide to Ideology

S: Snowpiercer dir. Boon Joon-ho 2013

F: discuss film

Mar. 23:

M: excerpts from Kovacs: The Cinema of Bela Tarr: The Circle Closes

W: excerpts from Rancière, Béla Tarr, the Time After

S: Werckmeister Harmonies dir. Bela Tarr 2000

F: discuss film

Mar. 30:

M: Revisionist histories; historiography; the biopic final paper prospectus due (1 page)

W: Excerpts from Marie Antoinette dir. Sophia Coppola 2006

S: Amadeus dir. Milos Forman 1984

F: Readings by Keefe and Marshall on Amadeus

April 6:

M: discuss Online article: Alan Zilberman, "Unresolved Chords: How Film Composers Shape Our Feelings" <http://www.rogerebert.com/balder-and-dash/movie-music-and-emotion>

W: Chapter from Gengaro, Listening to Stanley Kubrick: The Music in his Films

S: A Clockwork Orange dir. Stanley Kubrick 1971

F: discuss film

April 13:

M: "Philip Glass and the Minimalist Score" Annotated Bibliography due (3 pages)

W: introduce film/ contexts

S: The Hours dir. Stephen Daldry 2002

F: discuss film

April 20:

M: Final Paper due (6 pgs)

W: wrap-up

S: no screening