This course extends the Harlem Renaissance and the geographical place of Harlem to embrace an international movement in Black creative and intellectual production between the 1920s and the end of the 1930s. During this period between the war years, Harlem was in vogue and Caribbean, African, and American Blacks began a concerted effort to redefine Blackness in their literatures, arts, and political writings. In discussing this period, the students should critically and theoretically discuss issues of class, gender, race, and ethnicity. The critical and theoretical component includes such commentators as Houston Baker, Hazel Carby, Stuart Hall, Paul Gilroy, Homi Bhabha, Barbara Christian, Louis Althusser, and Antonio Negri.

II. COURSE REQUIREMENTS:
A. Reaction Papers 20 points
Due WEEKS 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, [12,13]
Students are responsible for all weekly assigned readings and must submit a one to two-page single-space typed critical reaction paper on the weekly readings and film screenings for weeks two through thirteen. Each of the ten weekly reaction papers is due during the class meeting that the reading is listed. * Students that have an oral presentation during a class meeting do not submit a reaction paper for that particular class meeting. (2pts for each reaction paper for 10 submissions during weeks 2-13).

B. Two Oral Presentations (lOpts each) & Two 1-page Outlines (lOpts each) 40 points
Each student delivers two fifteen-minute oral presentations that explore the literary and sociopolitical aspects of this period in African American creativity. Each 15-minute oral presentation must critically discuss a particular area of the Harlem Renaissance. The presentations should include a brief description of the particular critical methodology used, as Marxism, feminism, psychoanalysis, post-structuralism and Black Atlantic cultural studies, or a combination thereof that is employed to organize the presentation. The instructor will assign the two presentation dates.

C. 10-page Conference Paper & annotated bibliography 40 points
Due WKS 13 & 15 Thursday 16 November and 1 December
Students deliver a typed 10-page conference paper that reflects the various social and literary movements that occurred during the 1920s through the early 1930s. The conference should respond to a particular area of the 1920s (20pts). Again, students must explain the critical method employed and describe how this critical approach assisted them in writing the essay (lOpts). Essays must be accompanied by a typed, two-page, single-space annotated bibliography (lOpts).

III. LATE WORK
Class readings are listed for the day they are due to be discussed. All late written work and oral presentation, that is, when delivered after the class session meets, will suffer a loss of 5 points for each day it is late. An excused absence for medical reasons does not excuse the tardy delivery of a written work but may excuse a late oral presentation under certain circumstances.

IV. ABSENCE
One non-excused absence will lower a student's final grade point average by minus five points. Two non-excused absences will lower the average by minus ten points. More than two non-excused absences are grounds for a failing grade.

V. GRADING CRITERIA FOR ORAL PRESENTATIONS
The 5-minute oral presentation on an assigned reading and the annotated bibliography will be graded on the following criteria:
A. The importance of the material presented to the class or in the written essay. Students must make brief references to primary scenes in a particular literary work (or film) to illustrate important issues as well as to support their argument.
B. The clarity of the written and oral work. Here, "clarity" refers to smooth oral delivery, correct use of descriptive terminology and grammar.

C. The student's ability to pose important questions in the written work and, in the oral presentation, to pose questions to the class. Students should introduce the purpose behind their class discussion session and oral presentation (which is the initial statement that describes their central argument).
