Office Hour Thursday — Period 10 (5:10 - 6:00 PM), and by appointment

Description This is a course in exposition, which is catch-all term for almost any kind of nonfiction writing except argumentative writing. You will practice various kinds of exposition, on topics that you choose.

This is also a course in prose style: arranging your sentences and paragraphs. You'll learn a few basic lessons in prose style, which you can then apply to your writing.

Plan Starting with Week 2, you will write and revise one 600-word essay each week, for ten weeks. Starting with Week 2, every week I will meet with each of you individually to discuss what you are writing and to evaluate what you have written. On Week 12, I will meet each of you individually to select three essays to revise for your end-of-term portfolio.

Books There are none. Everything we need will be available for free through Canvas or the Internet.

Evaluation You and I will set goals for you throughout the semester. We will use those goals to evaluate each essay that you write and revise. Your final grade will be based on the three essays you select for your end-of-term portfolio, and on how closely you come to achieving your goals.

Late Work Please plan ahead for technical difficulties, and let me know as far ahead as possible about any problems.

Attendance If you think you'll miss an individual meeting, please let me know as soon as possible, so that we can reschedule. If you miss a meeting but can't get word to me ahead of time, please let me know as soon as possible afterward, so that we can reschedule. For UF policies on attendance, please see this link:
