

LIT 2000 Introduction to Literature Syllabus

Section: 4A13

Time: MTWRF, Period 3 (11:00-12:15)

Room: TUR 2336

Instructor: Romy Rajan

Email: rrajan@ufl.edu

Office: Turlington 4343

Office Hours: Mondays and Wednesdays, Period 4

Course Description

This course examines the roles literature has played in individuals' lives and in society. It is centered on three questions: What is literature? Why is literature produced? Why do we read literature? It introduces students to a wide range of literary genres, from different geographical areas and historical periods.

The primary aim of this course is to help students develop critical skills of analysis and interpretation. Students will also learn how formal and stylistic elements as well as historical context shape the meaning and significance of literature. By becoming more skillful readers of texts and their contexts, students become better readers of the worlds that literature addresses, develop their ability to decipher meaning from language, and better understand their own interactions with science, technology, media, commerce, and politics.

Course Objectives

In addition to gaining a deeper appreciation of the expressive potential of language and the varieties of literature, students will develop a broader cultural literacy and an understanding of the changing definition and role of literature in society.

Therefore, by the conclusion of the course students will be able to:

1. Demonstrate knowledge of the content of specific literary works and the structures and conventions of different literary genres.
2. Produce original, critical readings of literary texts, using different methods of interpretation and analysis, while identifying and interpreting formal and genre-related elements in the texts.
3. Critically assess the variety of roles that literature has played historically and continues to play in the human experience.
4. Draw connections between literary texts and their biographical, historical, and cultural contexts of authorship and reading.

Required Materials

Students are required to acquire the following texts.

- Dante Alighieri, Inferno (Cantos I and XXVI)
- Toni Morrison, Beloved (Vintage; ISBN: 978-1400033416)
- Marjane Satrapi, Persepolis: A Story of a Childhood (ISBN: 978-0375714573)
- William Shakespeare, The Merchant of Venice (ISBN-13: 978-0743477567)
- Miguel de Cervantes, Don Quixote (<http://www.gutenberg.org/files/5921/5921-h/5921-h.htm>)
- Salman Rushdie, East West: Stories (ISBN: 978-0679757894)

GRADE DISTRIBUTION

- Attendance & participation/in-class discussion (15%)
- Four Critical Responses (20%)
- One Close Reading of a passage from a literary text (20%)
- One Critical Analysis paper (25%)
- One Midterm Exam (20%)

1. Attendance & Participation (15%)

Attendance: Attendance is mandatory and will be taken daily. Late arrivals to class will count as half an absence. If you arrive late, you should inform me of your presence once the class ends, failing which it will not be recorded. Three absences will result in a penalty of ten points, while a total of four absences will lead to a failure of the course. Absences will be excused only in accordance with UF policy. Acceptable reasons include illness, religious holidays, military obligation, and those absences covered by UF's twelve-day rule (<https://catalog.ufl.edu/ugrad/current/regulations/info/attendance.aspx>). Students should inform the instructor (unless the absence is due to an emergency) of such reasons, before the class. Should you miss a class for any reason, you are responsible for informing yourself as to what was covered in class and for completing the missed assignments. Students are responsible for all work covered in class, all announcements, and all changes to the syllabus made in class.

Participation: Students are expected to read the assigned readings before class. Consistent participation in class discussions, demonstrated knowledge of the assigned readings will contribute significantly to this portion of the final grade. Bring your texts to class every day—either print-outs, or books. E-formats will be allowed only if the work in question is an essay, poem, short story, or an excerpt from a larger work.

2. Critical responses (20%)

Four times over the course of the semester students are required to write a brief (300 word) response to the day's reading. These responses must be uploaded to Canvas BEFORE class the day on which they are due.

These responses should raise either interpretive or critical questions concerned with textual meaning. They comment on themes, figurative language and symbolism within the narrative. They also may make judgments regarding the period, history, politics and ethical questions that are relevant to the text. The open-endedness of interpretive and critical responses indicates that there may well be neither simply "right" nor simply "wrong" answers; the success of a response is based on the evidence and reasoning students employ to support their analysis and judgment.

3. Close Reading Assignment: 750 words (20%)

This assignment will test student skills in close reading, especially as that skill pertains to works of poetry and short fiction. Students will be expected to analyze a text carefully and develop an argument regarding the whole of the text through a close reading. No outside sources may be used for this assignment.

4. Critical Analysis Paper: 1,200 words (25%)

This assignment asks students to combine close reading skills with critical concepts or historical information introduced in class or supplemental readings. The goal is for students to produce a strong conceptual argument supported by textual and contextual evidence.

5. Exam (20%)

This take-home exam will be distributed on-line (via Canvas). The exam will comprise two short essay questions based on the texts discussed in class, answers to which will have to be submitted the next day. Submitted exams will be assessed for evidence of collusion.

CLASSROOM POLICIES

Policy for completing missed assignments: Except in the case of certified illness or other excuse accepted by UF (<https://catalog.ufl.edu/ugrad/current/regulations/info/attendance.aspx>), there will be no option for retaking a missed exam or completing a late assignment. Where possible, this should be arranged by email or in person prior to the expected absence. In case of illness, student should contact instructor on his or her return to classes and produce documentation of their illness or emergency.

Cell phone and Laptop policy: Students must turn cell phones to silent mode before coming to class. Cell phones cannot be used in class. Laptops, e-readers, or tablets can be used only to view material that is pertinent to the texts under discussion, when so instructed. The instructor shall inform students as to when such use of electronic devices is required. Students found in violation of this policy will not be allowed to use their electronic devices for the rest of the class.

Note: A grade of C– is not a qualifying grade for major, minor, Gen Ed, or College Basic distribution credit. For further information on UF's Grading Policy, see:

<https://catalog.ufl.edu/ugrad/current/regulations/info/grades.aspx>

<http://www.isis.ufl.edu/minusgrades.html>

Final Grade Appeals: Students may appeal a final grade by filling out a form available from Carla Blount, Department of English Program Assistant. Grade appeals may result in higher, lower, or unchanged final grade.

Statement on Academic Honesty: All students must abide by the Student Honor Code. For more information about academic honesty, including definitions of plagiarism and unauthorized collaboration, see: <https://catalog.ufl.edu/ugrad/current/advising/info/student-honor-code.aspx>

Statement on Harassment: UF provides an educational and working environment that is free from sex discrimination and sexual harassment for its students, staff, and faculty. For more about UF policies regarding harassment, see: <http://www.hr.ufl.edu/eo/sexharassment.htm>

Sexual Assault and Harassment: Title IX of the U.S. Higher Education Amendments of 1972 makes it clear that violence and harassment based on sex and gender are civil rights offenses subject to the same kinds of accountability and the same kinds of support applied to offenses against other protected categories such as race, national origin, etc. Recent guidelines issued by the U.S. Department of Education state that these protections apply also to transgendered individuals. If you or someone you know has been harassed or assaulted, you can find the appropriate resources here:

Accommodations for Students with Disabilities: Students requesting classroom accommodation must first register with the Dean of Students Office. The Dean of Students Office will provide documentation to the student who must then provide this documentation to the Instructor when requesting accommodation. Contact the Disability Resources Center (<http://www.dso.ufl.edu/drc/>) for information about available resources for students with disabilities.

Counseling and Mental Health Resources: Students facing difficulties completing the course or who are in need of counseling or urgent help should call the on-campus Counseling and Wellness Center (352 392-1575; <http://www.counseling.ufl.edu/cwc/>).

Online Course Evaluation: Students are expected to provide feedback on the quality of instruction in this course based on 10 criteria. These evaluations are conducted online at <https://evaluations.ufl.edu>. Evaluations are typically open during the last two or three weeks of the semester, but students will be given specific times when they are open. Summary results of these assessments are available to students at <https://evaluations.ufl.edu>.

Classroom Behavior: Offensive remarks of any kind—including remarks based upon race, gender, ability, or sexual identity – in written assignments or during classroom discussions will not be permitted. Diverse opinions on the literary text under discussion are vital to lively classroom discussions. Intolerant remarks about peers' comments are unprofessional and not allowed. Disrespectful behavior will result in dismissal, and accordingly absence, from the class.

A Note on Course Content: At times during this semester we will be discussing literary works that may be disturbing, to some students. If you feel distressed, you may step out of the classroom for a while and speak to me regarding the issue at the end of the class. (You will, however, be responsible for any material you miss. If you do leave the room for a significant time, please make arrangements to get notes from another student or see me individually.)

CLASS SCHEDULE

Students should note that the schedule is a guideline and may change; students are responsible for all changes made to the syllabus and all changes announced in class, even if they are absent on the day of the announcement. It is each student's responsibility to keep up with the readings and all assignments.

Note: you will be required to have read the texts listed on each day prior to that day's discussion.
